

What are the successes and challenges you've faced with paying down debts?

Which debt works for you and which debt works against you?

How do you handle eliminating the debt that's working against you?

Reflection: Think of your values, and take the opportunity to further align your financial behaviors.